

Checklist for Moving to a New Home

These are some major areas you will need to consider when moving into a new living arrangement:

Financial Resources checking/savings accounts income (employment, assistance from family or friends, trust funds, annuities) Medicare/Medicaid eligibility benefits amount (Social Security, Supplemental Security Income) insurance public assistance (blind pension, supplemental aid to the blind, food stamps) personal spending amount personal property (household furnishings) additional personal expenses (i.e., medications, bills, cable) other _____
Legal Resources power of attorney for health/legal guardianship (full or limited) conservatorship social security benefit payee
	other _____
Medical Support Needs and Resources doctors medications medical conditions and treatments medical supplies and equipment dentist specialists upcoming appointments allergies therapies (OT, PT, speech) adaptive equipment/needed upkeep doctor's orders responsible party for medical actions immunization record

	other _____
Types of Communication
Daily Routine
Daily Living Needs
	self care receptive and expressive language learning mobility self-direction
	capacity for independent living or economic self sufficiency Behavioral Issues
Transportation
Work Situation or Day Program Activities in the Community	