This is not a comprehensive list nor does this list guarantee services. Most agencies are grant funded and are limited in their ability to assist. This is a starting point for resource brokering and becoming familiar with services in your community. Best practice suggests that you make contact with the agency to determine if they are able to meet your student/family’s need before providing the family with the phone number this is considered a “warm transfer”. This refers to you making a contact with the agency, getting a name, a direct number, and sharing those specifics with the family. If you are unable to find a resource on this list please feel free to consult with your building social worker.
